Campus-Based Organizations

Student organizations play an important role in student development on the campus of Minot State University. There are more than 50 student organizations reflecting the variety of interests of our student population. These organizations connect students with a stronger sense of community and can provide many opportunities for engagement and leadership.

Visit SGA Clubs and Organizations (<https://www.minotstateu.edu/sga/clubs-and-organizations.shtml/>) for a complete and updated list of active clubs on the campus of Minot State University.

If you don't see a club of interest to you, consider starting your own! The process is simple, and a new campus organization could be up and running in just a few short months! To officially register a club or organization at Minot State University please visit the Student Activities Coordinator in the Student Activities Office on the second floor of the Student Center.

Non-Campus Organizations

All non-campus organizations must get the approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs and Intercollegiate Athletics before they are permitted to function, campaign, or solicit on campus.
